Old-Fashioned Things

There is a charm about old-fashioned things;
Grandmother's spinning-wheel, her Paisley shawl,
Her candle molds, her quaint, old-fashioned rings,
The tall old clock that used to guard the hall,
The andirons and the old blue willow ware,
The highboy and the old carved rocking-chair.

And grandma, too, we feel was part of these,
As charming, quaint, and yes, as antique;
Forgetting 'mid our new facilities,
That grandma, in her day, was up to date
And used her candle-molds and goose-quill pen
In lieu of better tools undreamed of then.

And we forget our own grandchildren may
Smile in superior fashion at the sight
Of many things of which we're proud today;
Our telephone, steam heat and Tungsten light
And sigh a bit and wonder as they laugh
At our dear, quaint old-fashioned phonograph.
—Walter G. Doty in Farm Journal.

Railroads as Creators of Wealth.

We cannot count our wealth and greatness in terms that do not point for their significance to our lines of transportation. We say that we take annually out of the soil six billions of dollars. But these fabulous values result not so much from the fact that millions of bushels of corn and oats and wheat, of tons of hay and of bales of cotton, are grown and harvested, as from the circumstance that a system of transportation, unequalled on the globe for efficiency and cheapness of charge, is ready to carry these products to profitable markets. Our marvelous crops would count for nothing if forced to lie in the fields where they grow, or driven to seek such markets only as the farmer's team could reach. The cotton crop, which brings to our shores annually nearly half a billion dollars of foreign gold, would be but a fruitless burden on southern winds if there were no railways to carry it to the seaboard. We take from our mines and forests and factories twenty billions of dollars each year, but without means of transportation these costly products would be worthless junk.—Robert Mather: The Railroad Problem. Address before Chicago Association of Commerce, October 12th, 1907.

Monroe H. S. Graduates.

Stone School closes April 24th. James Uumstad, teacher. Another one of Monroe's High School graduates, is giving excellent satisfaction, to one and all, and wishing for him back again next term.

Franklin School closed Friday April 3rd, with an Arithmetic and Spelling Match, many visitors being present that afternoon. Thus ended one of the best terms of school ever taught in Franklin District. George L. Hicks, teacher, being a graduate of Monroe City High School. Thus it goes to show that Monroe City's High School graduates are making our very best teachers. Hurrah for M. H. S.

Mrs. J. G. Jones, of New York who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. M. Patterson left Thursday for St. Louis where she will visit relatives before returning east.

Mrs. Percy Weatherford, of Hannibal spent part of the week with relatives. She returned home Friday accompanied by her aunt, Miss Susie Ryan.

HINKLE'S CAPTAIN 12586

This full blood English Shire stallion, bred by Frank Hinkle of Prairie City, Illinois, will make the season of 1914 at my home, better known as the C. A. Lawson place, in the east part of Monroe City at $12.50 to insure a colt to the test. Hinkle's Captain is a bay, with white stripe in the face and both hind legs are white. He weighs close to 2,000 pounds, has large flat bone, clean legs, splendid form and has the action of a roadster. Pedigree will be shown upon application to the undersigned.

ROBERT SIMMONS 3557

This big black jack is 15 hands high, has big head and ears, fine form, very heavy bone and has proved himself to be one of the best breeders in the state. Bob Simmons is by Joe Simmons, one of the best jennet jacks in the state. By permission we refer those who wish to inquire as to his pedigree and breeding qualities to Leo Bell, who knows his history.

Bob Simmons will make present season at the above named place fee $10 to insure a colt to the test. See big bills. Positively no business on Sunday. 4 30

W. D. HAMNER.

A man in St. Louis Saturday in making an address before a large crowd on the value of persistent advertising answered the saying of some merchants that everybody knows them and the goods they carry, by telling the crowd that the people were forgetful of the things that were not kept constantly before them and offered a prize to anyone in the audience who could tell the name of Taft's running mate in 1912. The audience studied awhile but no one could give the answer. Finally one man asked the speaker if he knew who it was, and with a laugh he said no, that he had intended calling up the newspaper office and finding out before he came to the speaking, but forgot it. Can you tell off hand who it was?—Fulton Telegraph.

One Proper Turn.

"Don't you know, Emily, that it is not proper for you to turn around and look after a gentleman?" "But mamma, I was only looking to see if he was looking to see if I was looking."—Ex.

KING O' BOHEMIA (Rainstorm 5283)

Sired by Bohemian King 2410 by the undefeated Bourbon King by the renowned Bourbon Chief 979 who has 208 blue ties to his credit; dam Minnie Moon 5071 by Blond Squirrel 1488 by King Squirrel 1820 by Black Squirrel 58; second dam Maud by Dewey 1298 by Highland Denmark 730; third dam Bell by Tige, 4th dam by King William 67. We can count twelve champion show crosses in his breeding.

He is a big airy fellow with great knee and hock action; a long neck which comes out of his shoulders just right; fine head, big full eye, neat cut throat, big flaxen mane and tail which he carries to perfection. Is a rich chestnut in color with one white stocking behind.

Will mature to 16 hands and weigh 1200 pounds. If you want champion show horses bred to the horse that is full of that blood, for like begets like, one or two crosses will not produce them. King O' Bohemia is only a three year old and cannot serve many mares this year. His books are rapidly filling from the best herds in the country and if you want in would advise you to book your mares at once.

King O' Bohemia will make the season of 1914 at our barn at Monroe City at the small fee of $20 to insure mare in foal, money due when fact is ascertained, mare parted with or bred to another horse without our consent. It is seldom the public have an opportunity to breed to such a horse at so small a fee.

We invite you to come to our barns and we will show you six head all by the same sire and all look like six big red apples plucked from the same tree. This shows what ROYAL breeding will produce. We have already booked mares from three different counties and more booked.

Come and see us, you are welcome whether you breed or not.

Dr. S. Maddox & Son

Monroe City, Missouri

Two innovations were introduced at the first meeting of the new city council at Fulton. One was the meeting was opened with prayer. The other the mayor read an inaugural address in which the mayor made suggestions as to what he hoped to see accomplished during his term of office.

The commission form of government is in operation at Kirksville. The salary of the mayor is $750, councilmen $600, marshal $90.0

police judge $480, city attorney $1200. Quite an increase in salaries from the old plan. The commission is to be in continuous session.

There is no danger of overdoing this cleanup business. Streets, alleys, barnyards, backyards, frontyards, homes, business houses, all should be kept clean and sanitary. This is no one day job. It will take some part of each of the 365 days of the year.
